

34 CENTS

Far less than your cup of coffee.

That's how much your FMA national membership costs each day.
And what is your return on this small investment?

Every month, read up on the important work of FMA through the Washington Report e-newsletter.

Every quarter, receive The Federal Manager magazine – the only publication keeping you apprised of FMA's advocacy work while focusing on management topics and professional development tactics.

Every day, our Government Affairs Team empowers you by advocating on behalf of your interests before top decision-makers in Congress and the Administration. With your grassroots involvement through features like our Action Letters, our collective voice is heard loud and clear.

Become part of a network of federal leaders and innovators who are eager to assist each other in finding solutions to workplace challenges.

By joining FMA, you become a vital part of making positive change within the federal government.

Add your voice to the thousands of federal managers who are dedicated to excellence in public service.

Visit www.fedmanagers.org/join today.