

FMA ADVOCACY & LEGISLATIVE EFFORTS

The Federal Managers Association has done critical work in recent years to ensure managers' concerns are heard and to pass legislation that protects you and the federal workforce.

- FERS Sick Leave Credit: Those enrolled in the Federal Employees Retirement System receive an average of at least $500 a year for applying unused sick leave towards their retirement plan. Working with Congress, the Federal Managers Association was the driving force behind this legislation that rewards feds for responsible use of leave.
- Wounded Warriors Federal Leave Act: Thanks to FMA, new feds with a service-connected disability now begin their career with 104 hours of additional sick leave to use for their disability appointments and treatment during their first year as federal employees. The Congressional Budget Office estimates the law, which took effect on November 5, 2016, assisted 45,000 disabled veterans in its first five years.
- Paid Parental Leave: FMA supported the successful effort to provide 12 weeks of paid parental leave for new mothers and fathers (by birth, adoption, or foster) of a new child. This benefit took effect in October 2020.

Additionally, FMA is monitoring pay and benefits issues every day. And our seat on the Employee Thrift Advisory Council ensures you have a voice before the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board regarding decisions about the Thrift Savings Plan (TSP).

Why join the Federal Managers Association?

"FMA is the only organization that advocates for all managers, supervisors, and executives throughout the federal workforce. FMA members come from across the political spectrum and know FMA is a non-partisan association that actively works with elected representatives -- Republican, Democrat, and Independent -- and every government agency, large and small. We ensure our national leaders know of the important work our members do, and the pride we take in serving the American public. FMA is looking out for you. Join us!"

- FMA National President Craig Carter

"In every community across America, federal employees work to make sure the government is effective and keep us safe; their daily contributions to their fellow citizens and to the cause of freedom are simply innumerable. I am proud to represent the many dedicated patriots of Virginia's First District who serve the people of this nation every day. I appreciate FMA advising me on the concerns of federal managers, and look forward to continuing to work with FMA on issues of importance to the civilian workforce."

- Congressman Rob Wittman (R-VA)

"The Federal Managers Association is a strong advocate for our nation's federal employees and I value their perspective on the ever-changing civil service. Their focus and success on making our federal government more efficient and effective, while maintaining a dedicated management workforce, demonstrates the important role they play in helping those of us on Capitol Hill make sound policy decisions."

- House Majority Leader Steny H. Hoyer (D-MD)

ADVOCACY

FMA is the most powerful voice for federal managers in our nation's capital. Our considerable political influence stems from a team approach to advocacy. FMA's staff of policy analysts, communications experts, and advocates effectively brings your concerns on job, career, salary and benefits, retirement security and other issues to the attention of lawmakers and top agency decision makers. FMA's grassroots mobilization, backed by an aggressive political action committee, ensures strong allies on Capitol Hill who support the Association's policy goals.

MISSION

The Federal Managers Association is the oldest and largest professional association representing the interests of the more than 200,000 managers, supervisors, and executives serving in today's federal government, as well as actively promoting the interests of retired federal employees. Since 1913, FMA has been a passionate advocate for excellence in public service through effective management, and a forceful champion of its members' legislative agenda.

WHO SHOULD JOIN FMA? FMA welcomes all federal employees responsible for or associated with the supervision and management of people, programs, and activities of the federal government. Retired federal employees are eligible for Retiree membership at a discounted dues rate. Aspiring federal managers and all those who support the work of federal managers qualify for Associate membership.
